Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. The present application refers to a filter cartridge with a liner / valve construction positioned to extend along an upstream side of the filter media.

The closest prior art document D1 is:

D1: US-B1-6 322 697 (GUSTAFSON MICHAEL JON ET AL) 27 November 2001 (2001-11-27) cited in the application

2. The subject-matter of claim 1 differs from closest prior art document D1 in that the filter cartridge includes a liner/valve construction positioned along the upstream surface of the filter media.

The problem to be solved by the present invention may therefore be regarded as to inhibit loss of contaminant from the filter cartridge during servicing operation.

The solution to this problem proposed in claim 1 of the present application is considered as involving an inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT) for the following reasons:

No hint can be found in the available prior art that would have led the skilled man to modify the layout of a filter cartridge as disclosed in document D1 towards a filter cartridge of the present invention. Moreover the solution of claim 1 can not be seen as being obvious.

The subject-matter of claim 1 is therefore novel and involves an inventive step (Article 33(1,2,3) PCT).

3. Independent method claims 21 and 23

The method claims 21 and 23 refer to the filter cartridge as defined in claims 1-20. As the filter cartridge of claim 1 is novel and involves an inventive step, method claims 21,23 also meet the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.

4. Dependent apparatus claims 2-20,22

Claims 2-20 and 22 are respectively dependent on claims 1 and 21 and as such also meet the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.
